

Business Lawyer Prince George

Business Lawyer Prince George - Some of our client comprise financial institutions, leasing and financing companies, as well as different non-bank lenders. We normally help them to document and structure different loan transactions. Loan transactions may comprise lines of credit, term loans, revolving credit facilities, asset-based loans, subordinated financings, lease financings, real estate development financings and motion picture financings.

The business clients come to depend on our services in helping them to negotiate, arrange, and getting credit facilities.

Our lawyers are very familiar with public sector financing and with assistance structures and programs. They have extensive skill with industrial development transactions, industrial revenue bond issuances, local and state development agency financings and programs.

Moreover, our lawyers assist lenders and borrowers with loan restructurings and work-outs.
