Crown Attorney Prince George - Our company represents and advises a wide range of large and small, private and public businesses about business problems. We also advise non-profit entities and religious corporations.

We assist clients in the formation of publicly traded and privately held corporations, limited partnerships, limited liability companies, partnerships and sole proprietorship. We work closely together with clients as well as their accountants to ensure business transactions are structured in the most tax advantageous way. We think about both longer-term estate tax implications and short-term income tax considerations. In our work with small and large acquisitions and mergers, we take into consideration business, tax and legal implications while structuring acquisitions and de-acquisitions in the manner most useful to our clients.

We are experienced in structuring equity arrangements, like re-capitalizations, for companies raising capital. Our aim is to ensure compliance with applicable laws in connection with SEC, securities offerings and state regulatory compliance.

Our services to clients include the following: drafting, reviewing and negotiating capital business agreements as well as various arrangements like for example sales and manufacturers' representative agreements, joint venture agreements, non-competition, licenses and confidentiality agreements, employment agreements and distribution agreements. We are experienced at drafting and preparing stock options, stock awards and phantom stock arrangements for chosen staff.

We have experience in helping family businesses with the transition of ownership to a group of employees or a later generation.
