

Prince George Car Accident Lawyers

Prince George Car Accident Lawyers - Our class action defense group is one of the country's largest and most knowledgeable. Our knowledge is varied, but we specialize in class action situations consisting of employment, competition, environment issues, product liability, pension, professional liability, and securities.

Our firm's lawyers are fully capable at coming to a early settlement using our strong negotiating skills or defending our clients in a trial. Our aim is to create a correct strategy meant for you, one which is cost effective and efficient. Because our counsel is comprised of lawyers from numerous jurisdictions, we can offer our clients helpful, experienced recommendation and a national method when defending multi-provincial class actions. With regards to handling cross-border litigation, we likewise use our "one team" method. We have worked directly along with internal and external U.S. defense counsel to make a global defense strategy.

To be able to guarantee that our clients needs are best represented, we use a multidisciplinary plan to allow us to draw upon the information given by teams in competition, banking, corporate and commercial, labor and employment, intellectual property, pension and securities.
