

Prince George Injury Lawyer

Prince George Injury Lawyer - Our company's Class Action lawyers are experienced and knowledgeable in both defending and advancing class actions. The somewhat plaintiff-friendly nature of class action legislation has resulted in the start of class procedures that are national in scope. We have a well-developed network of relationships together with class action counsel within various provinces, enabling us to mount a coordinated approach in cases where parallel proceedings have been commenced in other jurisdictions.

Generally, class actions tend to create more financial exposure and a higher level of public scrutiny compared to various kinds of procedures. Our teams of lawyers have been involved in various class action suits, like securities, taxation, product liability claims and insurance. Our clients benefit from our extensive resources and depth of expertise.
