

Lawyers in Prince George

Lawyers in Prince George - Tax law is involved in an amazingly large amount of everyday activities and are in almost every day-to-day deal involving money. Usually, there is just cause to break a deal on the way the laws of taxation are implicated in a merger or partnership. Utilizing their resourcefulness and experience, our lawyers can normally turn what used to be a deal breaker into a deal maker. We ensure that up-to-date tax advice is provided in both corporate and commercial transactions by communicating together with our colleagues in several practices of law. We have a wide range of clients, from high net worth individuals to all levels of global corporations and governments.

Our tax litigators can provide cost-effective and efficient handling of a variety of tax disputes. The lawyers we select to join our firm, we ensure they are well rounded in both tax and litigation. Our chartered accountants and lawyers have worked for the provincial tax departments along with the federal Department of Justice. We would rather attain ideal resolutions fast, but whenever needed our lawyers are fully capable of representing our clients in court.
