

Family Law Firms Prince George

Family Law Firms Prince George - Child custody disputes and divorce can be confusing and emotional times. Even marriage can be confusing and stressful. The law is meant to protect you, but for individuals who are experiencing major changes in their lives, there can be feelings of vulnerability and fear.

The lawyers in our Family Law office can offer sound legal recommendation based upon our knowledge and experience in dealing with people in your similar situation. We can help you to know what lies ahead and what actions must be done.

We assist our clients to prepare marriage contracts, cohabitation agreements and separation agreements. We help with fields of property or pension division and child or spousal support. We are there if you need a restraining order, a divorce, access assistance and child custody, a change of name or paternity help.

Our lawyers have the expertise and knowledge to help you get the outcome you deserve. In cases requiring specialized knowledge, our Family Law lawyers work directly along with our experts in other practice areas, like for example business law and estate planning.

Our goal is to acquire for you a timely, fair resolution by way of skilled negotiation. In circumstances where negotiation is unsuccessful, our experienced Trial Counsel will represent you before the courts