

Immigration Lawyers in Prince George

Immigration Lawyers in Prince George - Our firm is quite skilled at some of the aspects of employment law comprising the drafting of independent contractor and employment agreements, offering suggestion concerning legislative requirements and human rights, and educating both employers and employees on the subject of wrongful dismissal.

Should employment law be disregarded, it can have devastating effects on the office. Lost revenues, creating an undesirable working environment and the loss of valued employees are amongst the possible damages that might occur. Whatever of these concerns could begin to tarnish a businesses status. At our company, we strongly encourage our clients to make independent contractor and employment agreements, as well as workplace training, in order to try and minimize future problems.

Our teams of lawyers are full capable of representing our clients in all levels of court in British Columbia. We even are very skilled at arbitrations and mediations.

Among the aspects of employment-related claims that our firm has experience in are drawing up contractor and employment agreements, advising regarding human rights, workers' compensations, employment standards, and occupational safety and health issues, helping prepare workplace manuals, and participating in mediation and arbitration.