Some of the subjects we advise our television and film business clients are on topics concerning distribution and co-production partners, tax credits and government funding, negotiations with broadcasters, banking transactions, union and guild problems, and any other production or financing problems they might encounter.

For the on-location productions, we provide advice and services concerning film tax credits and withholding tax, investment rules and regulatory requirements, in addition to probable issues regarding guilds and unions within the United States and Canada.

The main focal point of our team of lawyers concentrates on television, the new media and film industries. We work with and are accompanied by different groups consisting of our Labour & Employment, Tax, and Intellectual Property groups. A unique perspective is developed by our head lawyer, who depends upon his securities law and entertainment law knowledge to be able to give our clients with brilliant advice regarding corporate and project-based funding.
