

Real Estate Lawyer Prince George

Real Estate Lawyer Prince George - Our company's Real Estate Development lawyers advise clients about major commercial real estate development projects. We have played leading roles in negotiating complicated co-ownership, joint venture and partnership structures. We are here to help throughout the entire development process. We assist clients with development approvals, take-over financing, environmental compliance advice and final contract negotiation.

We act for credit unions, chartered banks, and pension funds, along with a lot of the largest insurance lenders in transactions involving real properties. Our firm's areas of emphasis are project financing and commercial real estate transactions. We have accumulated extensive skill through our involvement in among the biggest commercial real estate transactions and financing arrangements within the nation. Ownership structures such as joint ventures, limited partnerships, corporations and syndications fall within our field of expertise. We are well versed in financing instruments, like mortgages, leasehold financing, mortgage bonds and various secured financing arrangements.

We provide services to investors and developers of commercial and multi-unit residential properties, comprising shopping malls, residential, industrial and commercial projects. We count among our client's individual investors and owners, public and private corporations, pension funds, trusts, foundations and life insurance companies.
