

Prince George Employment Lawyer

Prince George Employment Lawyer - Our company specializes in Labour and Employment Law, working so as to advise and represent clients in both the private and public sectors before administrative tribunals, and before all levels of the courts in matters of labour litigation. We help our clients in the negotiation and drafting of collective agreements and participate in the drafting of employment agreements.

We have extensive experience in the numerous employment laws and regulations, comprising employment benefits and rights, wrongful dismissal, sexual harassment, accommodation of disabilities, safety and health standards and human rights. Our members work together with our clients through the procedure of dispute resolution, and by participating in arbitration, negotiation, conciliation and mediation.