

Prince George Real Estate Lawyer

Prince George Real Estate Lawyer - Our legal team has the skills and extensive experience to handle every aspect of commercial real estate. Our litigators have the requisite knowledge and expertise to help our clients during a multitude of situations. We have built numerous long term relations along with our clients, which consist of lending institutions, life insurance firms, different levels of government, crown corporations, contractors, land developers, property managers, asset managers, landlords and tenants.

The portfolio and asset managers and/or legal department of large corporations rely on members of our real estate team to advise them regarding the acquisition, development, and administration of cross-country real estate portfolios. Interaction between experts from other disciplines and our real estate experts is common so as to make certain that our clients be given quality service. Some of the other disciplines include merger and acquisition transactions, secured lending transactions, infrastructure and large project financing transactions, and public-private partnerships.

We are able to efficiently and quickly come to a sensible resolution to all of your legal real estate requirements, thanks to the full service nature of our practice, in addition to the experience and expertise of the experts that work for us.
